Indian Summer and October holidays: Make summer longer with Little Guest

Summer holidays are over, children are heading back to school soon and the most wanted destinations progressively cool down to offer the mild weather of the off-season: here is the dreamed opportunity for the intimist families to travel.

In September and October, the hotels are less crowded, sea is still warm, and the temperatures are milder, the ideal combination for a peaceful family trip, far from the bustle of the high season. This period also offers a significant advantage: much more affordable prices.

And when talking about family holidays, Little Guest is here to provide with its collection of luxury hotels, adapted to children and simplifying parents' life. With babysitting services and playful activities, not to mention the baby-clubs, kids-clubs or even teens-clubs, the hotel selection offered by Little Guest is the guarantee of unforgettable holidays in family.

Among the collection of more than 350 hotels, here is a selection that will please all the families during this off-season period:
