Nuclear Summit – Trump and Kim

Special coverage by ABC NEWS

ABC NEWS will bring viewers live rolling coverage, insights and analysis throughout the day of the historic summit between US President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong-un, scheduled to be held in Singapore on Tuesday 12 June.

Coverage of the countdown to the momentous meeting begins with News Breakfast at 6am AEST and continues from 9am with presenters Greg Jennett and Ros Childs, including live crosses to ABC correspondents Zoe Daniel, Stan Grant and Philip Williams in Singapore.

The summit begins at 11am AEST. From 12pm AEST, Greg Jennett and Kath Robinson return with up-to-the-minute reaction and analysis. As events unfold across the day, the ABC will harness the unparalleled strength and experience of our international reporting team, with our team in Singapore supported by China Correspondents Matthew Carney and Bill Birtles from Beijing and North Asia Correspondent Jake Sturmer from Seoul.

International affairs and political experts will also add their insights into this significant event and its ramifications for Australia and the world.

On ABC TV, a special edition of the ABC 7pm News will wrap all the key moments plus deliver the most comprehensive overview of the day, including a special edition of 730 with Leigh Sales.

On ABC NEWS channel, Karina Carvalho leads the prime-time coverage from 7pm AEST and Stan Grant hosts a special edition of Matter of Fact at 9pm AEST live from Singapore.

At 10pm AEST Beverley O'Connor will be joined by SMH International Editor Peter Hartcher for a two-hour special edition of The World. Live bulletins at midnight, 1am and 2am AEST will bring you the latest reaction as the northern hemisphere wakes.

Coverage will be livestreamed all day on ABC iview, with explainers and special feature reports providing background and context to the day's events.
