

media release

Australian Broadcasting Corporation

13 October 2016

For immediate release

ABC Brisbane to host the Walkley Press Photography exhibition

Over 90 images will be on display at the Walkley Press Photography exhibition, held in the ABC Brisbane foyer for the first time from Friday October 14.

Photographic works from nominees across seven categories will make up a showcase of a year of extraordinary moments, from the Rio Olympics, to a national election and global upheaval.

The exhibition will be open to the general public, giving visitors a chance to witness some of the highlights of 2016 through the lenses of Australia's best photojournalists.

ABC Brisbane's Local Manager, Jen Brennen says it's a privilege to host such a prestigious exhibition.

"The Walkleys are such an iconic part of journalism in Australia, and we're excited to unveil the finalists here in Brisbane. It's been a big year of stories, and this exhibition will be a great way to visually experience the highs and lows of 2016. We're certainly in for treat," she said.

The exhibition will be displayed in the ABC Brisbane foyer from 9am – 5pm Friday October 14 – Sunday November 27. Entry is free and all are welcome.

Please note some of the images will be quite graphic and not suitable for younger audiences

ENDS

Walkley Press Photography Exhibition

ABC Brisbane

114 Grey Street, South Brisbane

9am – 5pm Friday October 14 – Sunday November 27

Media Contact:

612 ABC Brisbane - Hannah Turner - 07 3377 5573 + Turner.Hannah@abc.net.au