

RIESE & MÜLLER PACKSTER 40

The ideal cargo bike for everyone who's ever considered a cargo bike too big, the Riese & Müller Packster 40 is a lesson in 'less is more' with nominal dimensions yet ample load volume. Its comparatively compact size means that this bike not only handles with astonishingly agility for a cargo bike, but it also takes up significantly less space in your garage or on the high street. Riese & Müller have developed a range of modular cargo elements, rendering the Packster 40 capable of transporting your kids or large household purchases. As the height of the bars can be adjusted in just a few seconds, there are no limitations for rider heights. It's built with a Bosch Performance CX motor and there's the option of a 1,000 Wh Bosch dual battery, which elevates the Packster to the frontrunner when it comes to ride behaviour, performance, and range.
