

Fosi Audio to Showcase i5 Planar Magnetic Headphones and Announce ZH3 DAC/Amp and IM4 IEMs at CanJam SoCal

Irvine, CA, September 11, 2025—Fosi Audio is pleased to announce its attendance at CanJam SoCal 2025, the premier audio show in Southern California, taking place from September 13th-14th, 2025 at the Irvine Marriott. Visitors are invited to stop by the Fosi Audio booth (Booth F4-F5) to experience the company's latest Open-Back Planar Magnetic Headphones, and be among the first to preview two upcoming launches arriving later this month: the ZH3 Balanced DAC/Headphone Amp/Preamp and Fosi's first In-Ear Monitors.

"CanJam SoCal is the perfect venue to bring Fosi's latest innovations directly to the passionate audiophile community," said Ryan Huang, Founder and CEO of Fosi Audio. "With the i5 headphones, our first in-ear monitors, and the upcoming ZH3 DAC/amp, we're expanding into new categories while staying true to our mission of making HiFi accessible."

Expanding the Affordable HiFi Lineup

Fosi Audio's i5 headphones feature planar magnetic drivers and an ergonomic open-back design for spacious sound and long-term comfort. Recognized for their precise imaging and impactful bass, the i5 has already drawn positive feedback from audiophiles and reviewers. Priced at $549.99, the i5 will be available for demos at CanJam, where attendees can hear them firsthand.

Fosi Audio will unveil a first look at the new ZH3 DAC/amp/preamp. Designed to support both desktop and studio use, the ZH3 combines XMOS + AKM flagship decoding with 4 high-performance dual op-amps to deliver clarity, precision, and transparency. Priced at $199, ZH3 delivers audiophile-grade performance with low noise and high dynamic range. Attendees at CanJam can explore exclusive hands-on opportunities and technical overviews ahead of its official release later this month. Also making their debut at CanJam will be the IM4, Fosi Audio's first venture into universal IEMs.

In addition to these exciting new releases, Fosi Audio will also have a wide selection of current products available for demoing at CanJam SoCal, including:
