Check-In Experience

After a long overnight flight or day of travel, the Artisans of Pleasure at Fauchon L'Hotel Paris know how to welcome guests in style.

Travelers are invited through the hotel doors, past the front desk and into The Library, where they are invited to sit down, relax, and take a deep breath. While their registration is being processed, they are presented with the welcome tea cocktail of the day and a plate of Fauchon's fresh-baked macarons as their introduction to Paris' first Gourmet hotel.

It is a wonderful opportunity to sit back and get acclimated to Paris and the world of Fauchon, watch passersby on the Boulevard Malesherbes, and enjoy.

When the guests are ready, the Artisan of Pleasure will check out their passport and any other necessary documentation, and then escort the guest to their room at their leisure.

It is, without doubt, the most civilized hotel welcome experience in the world.
