Director's Notes

At this festive time of year, what better way to celebrate the human spirit at work than through the story of a unique individual who brings light to the Belfry neighbourhood. It's a celebration of our human experience – good and bad, funny and sad. This simple child's tale set to music is like a gift of light to share as we move towards the shortest day of the year.

It's an honour to be able to work with the creators (Erin and Brad) on this new musical and give it the life it so richly deserves. Thank you for gathering as a community to support this and share in the opening of this gift.

Jane Johanson

Notes from the Creators

Brad L'Écuyer and Erin Macklem

Belfry, to workshop director Jennifer Brewin and production director Jane Johanson, to the workshop participants, the school choirs from George Jay Elementary School, Central Middle School, and Victoria High School, and the extraordinarily talented students in Company C, and the people who live and work in Fernwood – we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone who has supported this play. Especially you. Thank you for sharing your light with us today. We hope you enjoy the show.

Erin Macklem & Brad L'Écuyer

“This is a story about light. And how everyone needs a little light in their lives. And how inside us all there is a little light that's just got to shine.”

We wanted to share these lines with you here because, although the character who spoke them in the first draft no longer exists, the words still encapsulate what we feel is at the heart of this play.

This play has benefitted from the light shone on it by many wonderful people over the past two years.

From Michael and Ivan at the
