

Press Release
Brussels, 29 November 2016

Orange customers drive more cautiously thanks to the iCoyote application and can now benefit from the new 'My Stats' feature

Since Orange implemented the iCoyote application in the tariff plans of its customers in May 2015, some 65,000 Orange postpaid customers actively use the iCoyote app. They use it mainly to navigate, learn the official speed limits and have access to accurate real-time traffic updates. Orange customers praise the app's user-friendliness and its seamless operation thanks to the reliable connection with the Orange 4G network.

In order to continuously meet customer expectations in terms of driving and offer an innovative and distinctive service, Orange has extended its exclusive partnership with Coyote. This exclusive advantage for Orange customers is tailored to users of the Coyote driving assistance service. The iCoyote application sends them Belgian road traffic information to help them drive more cautiously and, if they want, contribute to the Coyote community.

Thanks to the new 'My Stats' feature, Orange customers who use the app can now compare information on their personal driving behaviour to that of the community as a whole, as well as how many kilometers they drive on which roads and how much time they spend behind the wheel every day/week/month.

iCoyote exclusively for Orange customers

The iCoyote smartphone application is available to all Orange customers with a Koala, Panther, Eagle or Eagle Premium subscription. It is a gift worth € 11,99/month.
