

PIPPA JUMPSUIT FROM THE SLOPES TO THE CITY

For the Fall-Winter 2023-24 collection, Fusalp pays tribute to its heritage hallmark design : the ski suit. In 1966, the Maison revolutionizes skiwear by creating the first competition ski suit for the Portillo alpine ski world championships. Originally designed for the Olympics and now under Mathilde Lacoste, Fusalp Artistic Director's influence, the brand's iconic style has gone from being an essential skiwear style to also becoming a staple design of an urban wardrobe. Season after season, Fusalp reimagines the ski suit in exceptional and uniquely elegant city-wear variations, inspired by over 50 years of savoir-faire.

The end result : The Pippa jumpsuit, an elegant and feminine silhouette, further enhanced by its zip closure that ends on a high collar for a streamlined and slender silhouette. Crafted in stretch neoprene interlock, it's a refined staple of the women's wardrobe. Both distinguished and functional, the jumpsuit boasts two pockets, discreetly integrated into the design. Paired with sneakers for a casual-chic look, or heels for a more sophisticated outfit, the black fitted jumpsuit is a sure hallmark design of the Fall-Winter 2023-24 collection.

About Fusalp

Fusalp was born in 1952 in the heart of the French Alps. Since its creation by a duo of tailors in Annecy, the brand has revolutionised Alpine skiwear by creating the first technical stirrup pants that was worn by the French ski team in the 60s. Iconic partner of the greatest alpine skiing champions, Fusalp has since tirelessly worked on achieving the perfect balance between technicality, comfort and style. A design signature that reflects a community of faithful and demanding connoisseurs in France and abroad. Through its collections, Fusalp celebrates the art of movement, a movement inspired by Alpine skiing and adapted to our modern urban lifestyles. The Fusalp collections can be found in the brand's 50 stores over 25 countries. Also available on fusalp.com.
