InnoGames TV: March Episode Includes Hidden Elvenar Beta Key

Hamburg, February 27, 2015. The German game developer InnoGames has just released its March episode of InnoGames TV today. This month, the approximately 12 minute video informs viewers of the latest news on all the company's popular titles. Viewers can expect full explanations on the up-to-the-minute features along with the chance of getting an exclusive beta key for Elvenar.

Elvenar starts the show off with two special components: an introduction to their basic battle system and a beta key that's good for 100 users. Attentive and quick viewers can directly activate the key by typing it into the game's portal after they have found it. In addition, the Lead Community Manager of Tribal Wars 2 explains their newest gameplay addition: Resource Deposits. While the Forge of Empires' Game Designer gives an outlook into the future of the game. This episode is packed with new features and Tribal Wars isn't left behind with their new mentoring system. Last but not least, fans of The West can look forward to their new Item Upgrade System. The western inspired RPG introduces this new element along with graphics and an explanation.

Through their monthly video podcast, InnoGames provides the community with the latest news about its games. While the host speaks in English, six languages are available via subtitles on YouTube.

With about 150 million registered players, InnoGames is one of the world's leading developers and providers of online games. Currently, the Hamburg-based company employs over 350 professionals from 30 nations. InnoGames has scored major success with games such as Tribal Wars, Grepolis and Forge of Empires.
