ABC and FremantleMedia Australia announce new series, THE RECORDING STUDIO

The ABC throws open the doors to its world class recording studios to everyday Australians.

If you could record one song, what would it be? Could it change the way you see the world? Would it mean a lot to you personally, to someone else in your life or your local community?

The Recording Studio is a new factual entertainment series that enables everyday Australians to record the most important song of their life. It's a place where stories can be told and captured forever.

They say every person has one great book inside them... at The Recording Studio, we say everyone has one amazing song inside just waiting to get out.

Under the guidance and mentorship of Australia's top musical producers, directors and engineers, the ABC is throwing open the doors to its world class recording studios and offering everyday Australians the opportunity of a lifetime; the chance to record a song that is special to them, or to someone else.

This is not about cutting a number one single, The Recording Studio is a look into the transformative power of music. It can heal, it can transform, and it has the power to change people's lives.

One song can change your life. It's time to hit record.

ABC and FremantleMedia Australia are looking for people with a need to celebrate, overcome or to reach out to someone...through music.

If you have a unique purpose for wanting to record a particular song, or if you know someone who would benefit from this extraordinary musical experience – then we want to hear from you. Further details can be found here...www.therecordingstudio.com.au

This series is a partnership between ABC and FremantleMedia Australia.

The Recording Studio will air on ABC in 2019.
