ABC Radio Canberra remains the market leader in local talk radio, with Dan Bourchier taking out the number one position for Breakfast, the latest GFK Canberra Radio Survey results report.

Canberra Editor Michelle Ainsworth said that ABC Radio Canberra's continued success is a result of the hard work the station puts in across platforms to engage with the local audience.

"Events like Stargazing Live and our ongoing focus on homelessness show that ABC Radio Canberra really is central to the lives of our community."

Dan Bourchier's strength in the dual role as ABC Radio Canberra Breakfast host and 7pm TV news anchor is paying off, with the show taking back its number one position.

"Dan Bourchier and Adam Shirley at Breakfast have moved back to a clear number one in the market through their agenda setting program, by keeping the government and other community leaders accountable," said Michelle Ainsworth.

"Breakfast remains the 'go to' program for finding out what is happening in Canberra."

Evenings with Chris Bath has also continued to show strong results, with the program keeping its number two position with Canberra listeners.
