

SPRING SUMMER 2018

A man with dark, curly hair and a beard is looking down. He is wearing a green jacket over a blue and white striped t-shirt and white pants. He is also wearing sunglasses. The background is a light-colored wall with a vertical wooden panel on the right side.

SPRING 18

The collection combines the two concepts of urban smartness and utility wear in recognition of the role clothing plays in our modern lifestyles. Regardless of whether they are worn for traveling, sports or leisure time activities, this season's key pieces deliver a contemporary style and take a fresh approach to daytime staples. The casual yet smart vibe is communicated by the slim outlines of tapered cut denims and chinos, short nylon coats and puffa waistcoats. Maritime prints are combined with college details and sportswear-inspired hoodies. Blouson-style jackets are light and airy, as are cropped pants and the new linen tops. Sporty polo shirts and floral prints complete the urban utility look and work well on an urban expedition. The summer color spectrum reaches from sophisticated neutrals, olive and navy blue to soft pink, light blue and a striking red. Ultimately, the collection offers new outdoor solutions that are about those transitional moments between work and leisure time.
