A 7.30 Exclusive: Leigh Sales interviews husband of Dreamworld victim

Airs Thursday August 16th at 7.30pm on ABC TV and iview.

The husband of Cindy Low, who was killed on Dreamworld's Thunder River Rapids ride, speaks publicly for the first time about the trauma of losing his wife in the catastrophic accident that claimed four lives.

In an exclusive interview with the ABC's 7.30 program, Mathew Low tells Leigh Sales how a family holiday on the Gold Coast turned into a nightmare.

"The grief side of it, it never really goes away. So some days around anniversaries or key moments, it comes back, and it's really, really difficult and challenging to get through those days."

"There's a lot of pain involved."

"It's a massive hole that's left."

Cindy Low, Kate Goodchild, Luke Dorsett and Roozi Araghi died from compressive and crushing injuries, according to counsel assisting the inquiry into the disaster.

Mathew Low has questioned a decision by parent company Ardent Leisure to proceed with its annual general meeting two days after the accident and is concerned that safety at the theme park has not substantially improved.

"It hasn't changed too much from when we went there."

ABC 7.30's exclusive interview with Mathew Low airs on Thursday 16th August on ABC at 7.30pm. Also available on iview.
