ABC simulcasts Paul Kelly Live at Sydney Opera House as part of Ausmusic Month Celebrations

This Ausmusic Month, ABC will present one of Australia's most loved songwriters, Paul Kelly, as he makes his long-awaited return to rock'n'roll, performing live from the forecourt of the Sydney Opera House. Join Myf Warhurst as she presents this landmark concert airing across ABC TV, ABC iview and Double J on November 19 at 8:30pm AEDT.

David Anderson, Director Television says, "The ABC is excited to give audiences around Australia a front row ticket to Paul Kelly Live at the Opera House with our upcoming broadcast which is sure to be a highlight of Ausmusic Month. His lyrical genius has long united generations of fans and provided a soundtrack to Australian life and we couldn't be more proud to present such an iconic Australian entertainer."

The 10-time ARIA winner and ARIA Hall of Fame inductee returns to the stage in electric form for his biggest headline show yet, performing a career-spanning set with a full band. From St Kilda to Kings Cross to the Sydney Opera House and back, Kelly has recorded over 21 albums as well as several film soundtracks, with his most recent album Life is Fine taking him to the top of the ARIA charts earlier this year. He continues to capture the imagination of audiences both locally and further afield, with many of his songs now lodged deep in the Australian psyche.

ABC is giving one lucky Paul Kelly fan the chance to win a double pass to the concert. To enter, visit the ABC website (http://www.abc.net.au/paulkellylive) and tell us in 25 words or less why you want to see Paul Kelly Live at Sydney Opera House.
