“Embracing the cozy allure of winter, we’ve cranked up the holiday spirit with a twist that’s bound to land you on Santa’s Naughty List. Research suggests that the festive season brings a surge in both orgasms and conceptions. To spread holiday cheer, we’re proud to unveil our hidden Jingle Bells vibe pattern that customers can now discover with our bestseller, Gii. We hope to use the power of music and rhythm to create a light-hearted mood, bring laughter, and spark a better connection between couples - or with yourself,” says Andrea Rey, Co-Founder of Biird.

Gii is a vibrator that is both powerful and versatile, which is the secret behind its success. This G-spot massager is designed for both external and internal stimulation and emits deep and rumbling vibrations at 8-strength settings. With its feather-smooth curves, body-safe silicone, and 9 default vibration modes, Gii promises toe-curling orgasms in a design that is as sophisticated as it is liberating.
