Fact sheet

Emirates' new fully enclosed Private Suites, inspired by Mercedes-Benz, are a game changer. With soft leather seating, sleek interior design, window views in every seat, zero-gravity seating positions and meticulous attention to detail, the suites bring a new level of luxury on board. Several thoughtful touches and products have been added for a truly First Class experience.

Byredo skincare collection

Each suite is fitted with an inspiration kit which features a luxury Byredo skincare collection found only on Emirates.

Byredo is a modern European luxury brand founded in 2006 by Ben Gorham, with strong ties to creativity, art and lifestyle. Byredo has launched its skincare line exclusively in Emirates First Class. All the products in the collection are manufactured using the best raw materials with a distinct focus on craft and quality.

The products on board include:

- Towelette: Cleanses and refreshes the face, leaving a clean base to enjoy the maximum benefit from skincare
- Facial Toner: An invigorating burst of freshness for the face and essential hydration, improving overall skin texture
- Eye Cream: Gently hydrates sensitive skin around the eye leaving it softer and suppler
- Sleep Oil: A Chamomile roll-on oil to apply on wrist, temples, and pulse points to ease into relaxation
- Pillow Mist: A soothing Chamomile spray for textile to create a calming atmosphere and help stay relaxed

Leather notebook and pen

The inspiration kit also includes a notebook and pen to jot down stories, memories and ideas.

Binoculars

Steiner Safari Binoculars are available in the suite for customers who want to explore the sky outside their window.

Bowers & Wilkins headphones

The suites will include Bowers & Wilkins headphones to complement the viewing experience on Emirates' award-winning inflight entertainment, ice. The Active Noise Cancelling E1 headphones were created exclusively for Emirates and use a unique hybrid noise cancellation technology optimised for the Emirates First Class cabins, neutralising ambient noise for a truly immersive entertainment experience. The headphones are designed to be lightweight and made of the finest materials, including aluminium and sheepskin leather for a comfortable fit.

Hydra Active moisturising pyjamas

For a good night's sleep, Emirates provides pyjamas using Hydra Active Microcapsule Technology designed to keep skin hydrated during the flight. The patented technology uses billions of capsules applied to the fabric which gently releases naturally-moisturising Sea Kelp during movement. The Microcapsule Technology of the lounge wear locks in the moisturiser for up to 10 washes so customers can re-use them. The suits include matching slippers and eye mask and come in a stylish felt pouch.

For added comfort, customers can keep warm with a plush, faux sheep-skin blanket in First Class.

Bulgari amenity kits

Customers can prepare for the next step of their journey with exclusive Bulgari amenity kits. Emirates has partnered with the luxury Italian brand to create exclusive designer kit bags that include signature Bulgari fragrances and lotions, along with other pamper essentials. The First Class kit bags come in eight brand new designs for men and women. The new kits also include Bulgari's White Tea fragrance and are available on long-haul night flights and on flights over 10 hours.

Dining in First Class

First Class passengers can order a la carte multi-course meals created by top international chefs from an extensive menu. Dining is on demand and an order can be placed at any time during the flight. Emirates uses the finest Royal Doulton china and exclusive Robert Welch cutlery- providing a premium class dining that is unmatched.

Emirates customers will also be served some the most exclusive wines, champagnes and spirits. The airline's world-class wine programme procures the finest wines from the most prestigious wine producing regions around the globe.
