

CUSTOMER VALUE PROPOSITIONS

SIG Air Handling is a leading supplier of products and systems for the air handling market. We offer project solutions for professional installers and engineering offices through the following propositions:

DISTRIBUTION

With a broad range of quality products, local presence with many branches and excellent logistics, we offer our customers ease of access, flexibility and technical support.

We provide our customers with a one-stop-shop, a state-of-the art e-commerce platform, easy ordering, quick and reliable delivery and a team of knowledgeable and friendly people.

PROJECTS

SIG Air Handling shares daily its expertise and insights with consultants, architects, contractors and installers from the design phase to the installation of complete solutions, including commissioning and maintenance.

From selection software to BIM modelling, from design to full climate control solutions, SIG Air Handling is your preferred partner for any type of project.

Our in-house knowledge and support is also available for testing full systems in our climate chambers. Many projects in Europe, in all market segments are being delivered with SIG Air Handlings products, systems and solutions.

SERVICES

Our designing & engineering services but also on-site deliveries and e-commerce services have been developed to support our customers daily in a professional way.

Many services are available upon your request. Contact your local SIG Air Handling company for more information.