Broadway in Atlanta makes charitable donation to local orthopaedic practice

Generous donation to benefit Resurgens Charitable Foundation

ATLANTA (March 7, 2018) – Broadway in Atlanta continues to make strides in fulfilling their philanthropic endeavors with its recent donation to the Resurgens Charitable Foundation. The donation of $6,795, which was raised through Broadway in Atlanta ticket sales, will help Resurgens Charitable Foundation continue their mission to promote active lifestyles among people of all ages and abilities.

“Working with Resurgens Orthopaedics has been a very rewarding experience,” said Russ Belin, vice president of Broadway in Atlanta. “This donation is a gift to thank Resurgens Charitable Foundation for continuously immersing themselves in the community by promoting a healthy, active lifestyle.”

Resurgens Orthopaedics is Georgia's largest and most trusted orthopaedics team with over 100 specialized physicians offering comprehensive and compassionate care. The Resurgens Charitable Foundation recognizes that play is an essential “therapy” to help young people grow stronger and live healthier, and believes that all children regardless of ability, should have access to stimulating and challenging play spaces. Since 2001, the Foundation has built or contributed to 19 new playgrounds throughout the metro Atlanta area with a commitment to build at least one new “all abilities” play facility annually.
