and well

What is BASTUA?

A limited collection designed in collaboration with Marimekko, BASTUA is inspired by nature and the self-care rituals of the Nordic sauna. Consisting of furniture, glassware and textiles with vibrant prints, the collection invites you to live boldly, joyfully and well.

The patterns and textures were inspired by exuberant rhubarbs that grow near sauna huts, the soft, curved cuts of chopped wood, and gentle water ripples on lakes illuminated by the midnight sun.

The BASTUA collection allows you to take a little piece of Nordic happiness with you, with or without a sauna. Let's dive in.

A collaboration on Nordic wellness and joy

Inspired by nature and the self-care rituals of the Nordic sauna, the BASTUA collection combines IKEA home furnishing knowledge with Marimekko's iconic print design in products for wellbeing at home. The collaboration encapsulates the sensations of endless summers and the simple and aesthetic beauty of Nordic nature in furniture and accessories for the home.

This is the first time that Marimekko has designed a set of prints especially for a collaboration, making it truly unique.

The collection features four special prints with different colourways.

Bringing together two designers from IKEA and two designers from Marimekko, the collection drew inspiration from their common Nordic heritage – particularly from the singular joy that comes from spending time in the sauna.

The resulting pieces allow you to share the excitement of plunging into a lake, the dazzling beauty of the midnight sun and the invigorating sensations of the sauna, wherever you may be.

Maija Louekari – Designer, Marimekko

Inspired by the sauna, the BASTUA limited collection celebrates the pleasure and joy of self-care rituals.

Henrik Preutz – Designer, IKEA

Partnering with Finnish design house Marimekko is as natural as flowers facing the summer sun. Founded in 1951, Marimekko's mission is to bring colour and joy into lives and homes everywhere. Their iconic prints have been worn as bold badges of positivity and personal empowerment.

It's a natural fit for our aim to create a better everyday life for the many people. Drawing from our common Nordic heritage, we talked about sauna culture in our first meetings – Marimekko created a functional sauna concept in the 1960s, and IKEA also had a sauna in our range in the 1980s – and the fact that wellbeing and taking care of oneself both physically and emotionally is more and more important. Thus, the theme for the BASTUA collection (bastu is the Swedish word for sauna) was born.

Nordic sauna culture is the entry point to a collaboration that aims to bring joy to as many people as possible by combining IKEA home furnishing knowledge with Marimekko's print design expertise to celebrate the pleasure and joy of self-care rituals.

“This pattern for the BASTUA collection is inspired by the large, decorative rhubarb leaves that sometimes grow next to sauna buildings in Finland. The wide, green leaves are a sight to remember – and the pink stem is a juicy, crunchy treat.”

This glass jug features a decorative surface reminiscent of carved wood, with softly shaped recesses that gently play with the light. It references the shape of water ripples as well, like small waves on a lake, near a sauna.

The design can be seen in the glasses and bowls in the collection as well – perfect for a sparkling and coordinated look.

“This pattern for the BASTUA collection is inspired by the soft, curved cuts of the carved grey log walls in the sauna cabin that my grandparents had. You can even sense a Finnish landscape where the sky meets the lake’s surface.”

Sami Ruotsalainen – Designer, Marimekko

These bench towels feature a pattern inspired by the soft, curved cuts of log walls in traditional sauna cabins. They come in two versatile sizes; they're wonderful to use in the sauna, but could be used as table runners or tea towels, too.
