Crew Calls with Mahalia's touring team and Harford Sound, RF wireless expertise, pro headphones and a look at 8D audio

Wedemark, June 18, 2020 – Sennheiser's #DontStopTheEducation series continues with two Crew Call panel discussions: On 23 June, you can meet the live touring team of singer-songwriter Mahalia, and on June 30, the team from Harford Sound will discuss how their production company adapted to the Covid-19 situation. Also coming up in June is a new edition of the live RF Expert Round Table, as well as live webinars on pro headphones, multi-zone antenna systems and 8D audio. As always, all panellists and hosts in the live webinars are very much looking forward to answering your questions.

Live Round-Table Discussion

Tuesday, June 23, 2020, at 17:00 Berlin time (16:00 London, 11:00 New York, 15:00 UTC)

Crew Call – Mahalia

Sennheiser hosts Andy Egerton and Tim Moore welcome members from the touring team of singer-songwriter Mahalia, Nominee for Best Female Solo Artist at the 2020 BRIT Awards. Guests include Mahalia's musical director and touring bass player Charlie Fowler, tour manager Carl Lewis, front-of-house engineer Luigi Buccarello, monitor engineer Alice Asbury, guitar technician Jamie Hicks and merchandise manager and trainee backline technician Chris Bunt.

This webinar has something for everyone: If you are looking to get into the touring industry as a career, this webinar will highlight some key touring roles and requirements. If you're already in the industry, this is a great way to gain insights into the life of another tour crew – and an opportunity to catch up with some of the tour banter you might be missing during lockdown! Just sign up at https://zoom.us/webinar/register/WN_b5k12pzvRt6976KZ-FRfRA, tune in and remember to ask questions via the live Q&A section.

Immersive Music Mixing – First steps into 8D music and binaural audio productions

Christian Sander and Kai Detlefsen of Sennheiser partner Dear Reality and Johannes Kares from the Sennheiser AMBEO team will provide you with a solid technical background into the current and much hyped field of 8D music. Typical 8D productions are generated by binaurally rendering the stereo mixdown of a song – but there are certain limitations. The Sennheiser/Dear Reality team will show you how you can bring your 8D productions to a whole new level by positioning the instruments in the virtual space in your binaural mixes. Besides demoing binaural production workflows, they will also discuss the hype around 8D technologies and its impact on music production in general.
