Silicone Dildos
by Biird & Jouissance Club

Introducing Boo and Bae, the latest pleasure items brought to you by Biird in collaboration with Jouissance Club.

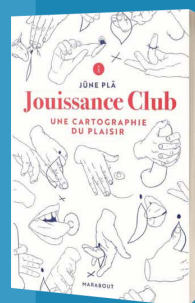

Designed to each offer a specific range of pleasure, Boo features a wider than usual yet not very long insertable part while Bae has a more slender but longer body. These particular characteristics allow for two very distinct pleasure experiences.

With Boo you can enjoy a wider, fuller penetration without the typical length that usually comes with a larger size dildo. This provides broader stimulation of the clitoral bulbs while avoiding any discomfort to the cervix.

Bae on the other hand is crafted for a deeper penetration without all too much width, making it perfect for those looking for depth without the stretch. This makes Bae excellently suited for anal play as well.

Crafted from Biird's ultra soft medical-grade silicone and hand finished in an eye catching splash pattern, both pleasure items come with their own velvet pouch with a Jouissance Club pattern embroidered as well as a Jouissance Club key chain.

Get ready to indulge in a new sensory bliss with Boo and Bae, your partners in pleasure exploration.

About Jouissance Club:

The brainchild of Jüne Plä, a french artist and writer, Jouissance Club grew from an Instagram account sharing pleasure and sex tips to a bestselling book about pleasure in multiple countries.

A word from Jüne Plã

The Jouissance Club Author

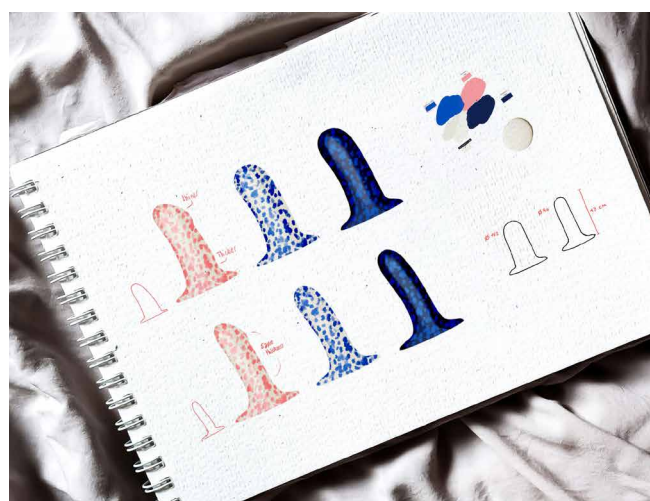

Stepping away from social media reignited my passion for creating, and I've harbored a dream of designing my own toys for quite some time.

The concept for Boo and Bae stemmed from my search for the perfect dildos. Despite having a sizable collection, I couldn't find any that met my needs. It struck me that perhaps only men were behind the designs, resulting in either the perfect width but excessive length or the right length but too thin. It became clear: I needed to address this oversight.

Luckily, I know a wonderful team who were enthusiastic about my idea. With their support and Biird granting me carte blanche, Boo and Bae were born!

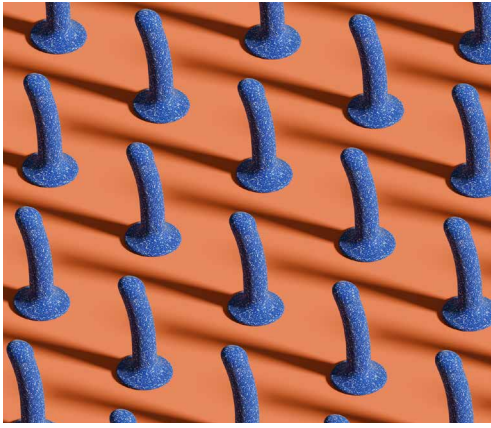

Boo is my favorite because it's truly unique on the market. It's short and wide, perfect for stimulating the clitoral bulbs without reaching too deep. It's all about pure pleasure.

On the other hand, Bae is thinner and slightly longer. While it's great for vaginal penetration, it's also designed with anal play in mind.

Boo and Bae complement each other perfectly!

And because we appreciate beauty and uniqueness, we've adorned them with lovely spots that add a touch of charm. Trust me, casually placed on your shelves, they brighten up any room!
