Santo, Sam and Ed's Total Football Podcast is now on ABC iview to watch

In an ABC Podcast first, the popular Santo, Sam and Ed's Total Football Podcast is now also available to watch on ABC iview.

Following the huge success of the podcast, the trio are tackling iview to further enhance the experience as they deliver their take on all the big football news from around the globe.

The boys started together in 2010 for the FIFA World Cup on Cup Fever (SBS) and have been tackling the world game's big issues ever since.

What they lack in stats and facts they make up for in half-baked ideas and dodgy puns. They're not afraid to combine in depth analysis with bad Harry Redknapp impersonations and the occasional reference to Michael Mifsud.

So head to iview and watch Santo (former translator for Juventus), Ed (the tall one with the big nose) and Sam Pang (diversity choice) cover football. Totally.
