Anne Grovu Named Head of Human Resources at InnoGames

Hamburg, January 7, 2014. Anne Grovu is new Head of Human Resources at online game developer InnoGames with immediate effect. The 36-year-old previously was Head of Human Resources at AIRBUS CIMPA in Germany and was responsible for the international training management. Additionally, Grovu is a lecturer for Intercultural Business Communication at the University of Hamburg and has experience consulting for management and organization development.

“I am very excited about joining InnoGames and look forward to the young and international atmosphere. InnoGames is one of the most attractive employers in Germany and is looking for 100 highly qualified new colleagues from around the world this year. I look forward to being part of this healthy growth process and actively shaping the human resources department”, says Grovu.

Anne Grovu studied in Hamburg, Sydney and Essen, Germany and holds an international MBA as well as a degree in communication science. During her studies, she focused on international HR management and intercultural communication. InnoGames is the perfect place for Grovu’s intercultural competence. Currently, the Hamburg-based company employs about 300 professionals from more than 22 nations. The official office language is English. Anne Grovu leads the human resources team and reports to COO Michael Zillmer.

With 110 million registered players, InnoGames is one of the world's leading developers and providers of online games. InnoGames has scored major success with games such as Tribal Wars, Grepolis and Forge of Empires.
