

Cortado: Apple and Android Device Enrollment From the Cloud

Cortado Cloud enables companies of all sizes, and in all verticals, to easily integrate mobile devices into their workplaces

BERLIN/DENVER/LAS VEGAS, August 28, 2017 -- The enterprise mobility expert, Cortado Mobile Solutions, today launched Cortado Cloud, a new MDM/MAM solution for quick and easy mobile device and application management. Cortado Cloud enables companies to set-up and commission iOS and Android mobile devices in just a few easy few steps. With Cortado Cloud, devices are automatically equipped with required features and apps, such as e-mail, Wi-Fi and VPN, as well as extensive security features including policies, data encryption, delete functions and password locks. This new cloud-based solution eliminates the need for companies to operate their own server or have in-house MDM know-how.

Many companies want to enable mobile work for their employees without having to set up and manage a specialized IT landscape. Cortado Cloud addresses this need. In addition to automatically making required features available on the device, it delivers security businesses can count on. Encryption, the ability to lock and delete devices, and force a password-protected login ensure the highest levels of data security. Servers are located in Germany, thereby fully complying with its strict data protection regulations.

Compared to other solution providers, Cortado focuses on the opportunities made available directly with mobile operating systems themselves. This means that employees always benefit from OS updates including their important security features and new productivity tools, all without any delay.

“With Cortado Cloud, companies empower their employees with mobility in record time and without requiring special know-how,” said Sven Huschke, CEO at Cortado Mobile Solutions. “All of this is combined with a high degree of automation making it particularly easy to set up and implement. Cortado Cloud is the ideal solution for agile companies looking to remain in charge of their devices and data with a minimum workload and who are actively looking for a cloud solution.”

Cortado Cloud accounts are available from just 10 users at <https://cloud.cortado.com>. Pricing starts at $6.38/€5.50 per user (including up to 5 devices). Interested parties can try Cortado Cloud free for a full 7 days.
