The HD 280 PRO is Sennheiser's special deal for the month of May

Firm favourites with musicians, DJs and engineers alike, the closed, around-the-ear HD 280 PRO headphones have been engineered for professional recording, mixing and monitoring applications. They offer high attenuation of ambient noise and a linear audio reproduction, enabling you to accurately monitor sound even in critical environments.

The HD 280 PRO feature soft earpads for a comfortable fit even during long mixing and monitoring sessions. The earcups fold and rotate for space-saving transport, the coiled cable is single-sided and tough.
