REPAIR THE PAST, STRENGTHEN THE FUTURE WITH AVEDA'S NEW BOTANICAL REPAIR™ BOND-BUILDING PRE-SHAMPOO TREATMENT

This plant-powered treatment builds new bonds at the hair's cortex for intensive hair repair and strengthening from the inside out

Available as from mid-March 2025

MINNEAPOLIS, MN (MARCH 3rd, 2025)— Damage is a leading hair concern for consumers globally. From past color or chemical treatments to daily heat styling or the drying effects of the sun, hair damage makes its mark—but not anymore. Aveda, the purpose-driven pioneer of plant-powered, high-performance hair care, has announced the launch of its first pre-shampoo treatment that transforms even extremely damaged hair. The NEW Botanical Repair™ Bond-Building Pre-Shampoo Treatment is vegan, 97% naturally derived¹, and provides intensive repairing power, building new bonds within the hair cortex for restorative strengthening.

Aveda's Botanical Repair™ Bond-Building Pre-Shampoo Treatment is designed to be applied to dry hair, allowing it to penetrate deep into the hair's cortex – the innermost core of the hair that is responsible for hair's structural properties and strength – with 2X the plant-derived bond building molecule². The pre-shampoo's luxurious gel crème texture effortlessly glides through hair, protecting and realigning the fiber from root to tip. The treatment should remain on the hair for 5-10 minutes while Aveda's BioTech Naturals plant-derived bond building molecule works to build new bonds deep within the cortex to restore strength and repair damage, resulting in hair that is 3X stronger and more resilient from the inside out³. Follow the pre-shampoo treatment with Botanical Repair™ Strengthening Shampoo and Conditioner. The Botanical Repair™ Bond-Building Pre-Shampoo Treatment nourishes and conditions hair and leaves it softer and smoother after one use and is formulated for hair types and textures 1A-3C.

“We expose our hair to damage-causing culprits daily – from hair color, heat styling, brushing or even the weather we encounter outside,” explained Ian Michael Black, Aveda's Global Artistic Director of Hair Color. “I often get asked how to determine whether hair is damaged. Some key signs are if your hair looks dull or feels rough, has split ends, or ends that look more broken or thinner than the rest of your hair. With its repair and protection benefits, the Botanical Repair™ Bond-Building Pre-Shampoo Treatment is a star product to join the Botanical Repair™ collection. I love that it restores strength lost from damage due to chemical treatments, so I would always recommend that all hair color guests start off their hair care regimen at home with this amazing new treatment,” he added.
