Janet King

Having witnessed the shocking events outside the NCC just as Clay (Don Hany) was preparing to testify, Janet (Marta Dusseldorp) is convinced it was no accident. When it is revealed Clay received a mystery visitor the previous night, Janet's theory gains traction. But who was his mystery visitor?

Meanwhile, a disturbing video of Tyler Perati's (Julian Maroun) younger sister, Pearl (Zoe Terakes), causes a brawl at the Northern Devils' home ground, leading to Nate Baldwin (Adam Demos) punching Tyler – killing him. Nate swears he didn't hit Tyler very hard, but a manslaughter charge looms.

While Janet strategizes how to use this charge as leverage to get him to reveal what he knows about the betting syndicate, further suspicion is thrown on the Northern Devils' major sponsor, Pax Car Rentals. The company's chairman is called to front the NCC, and Janet is floored to discover it is her estranged father – Graham King (John Bach).

With Graham now a person of interest for the NCC, Tony (Peter Kowitz) is forced to ask Janet to stay at arm's length from the investigation into her father. But will Janet's unresolved issues with her father betray her better instincts and risk compromising the reference?

Janet's suspicions are finally vindicated after she discovers a recording of the harrowing exchange between Clay and the mystery visitor. A sign of the dangerous world Janet and her team are entering.

Short synopsis

Janet's estranged father Graham suddenly re-enters her life suspected of fixing matches for a club already under intense scrutiny after their star player punches and kills one of his teammates. CAST: Marta Dusseldorp.

War On Waste

There is no doubt that we live in an increasingly throwaway society. Craig explores the impact that coffee cups and fast fashion have on our environment.

It's estimated that over 1 billion coffee cups are ending up in landfill per year. While most people believe coffee cups are recyclable, this is not quite the case. Craig catches up with the experts to find out what is going on. To highlight the issue, he fills a tram with coffee cups and encourages Melbourne's coffee lovers to start using their own recyclable "keep cups". Can the movement take off?

Craig examines our obsession with fast fashion - it's an issue that's causing an environmental crisis globally as textile waste is piling up at catastrophic levels. Our clothing charities are inundated with the volume of clothing coming to them, much of which now ends up in landfill. A recent audit by the City of Sydney reveals that 6 tonnes of textile and fashion waste are going to landfill in Australia every ten minutes. Craig unleashes a dramatic stunt in Martin Place to illustrate just what a pile of this waste looks like.

Craig follows this up by tracking down four fashion-obsessed millennials and, with the help of celebrity stylist Aleysha Campbell, inspires them to slow their fashion down by going on a fashion diet.

Craig returns to our "waste free" families to see their transformation over the course of the show. Finally, he follows up with supermarkets and recycling facilities to encourage them to make changes for the better. Will he have an impact?

Ask The Doctor

Ask the Doctor is an innovative, fun, and exploratory factual series that addresses the state of the nation's health, the latest in medical treatments and the future of healthcare as we know it.

Our trio of accomplished Aussie doctors, Dr. Shalin Naik, Dr. Renee Lim, and Dr. Sandro Demaio, travel the country to tackle our big health questions, bust medical myths and uncover the wonders of the human body. Here to answer Australians' health questions from how to treat the common cold to how much alcohol to drink, our medical experts deliver reliable, up-to-date medical advice to help people live healthy lives.

Each episode features a different theme ranging from diet, to pain, to sexual health to allergies. From the bedroom to the science laboratory, the dinner table to the operating table, we take a peek behind the medical curtain and explore both the most common and the most uncommon health concerns. We learn what the leading experts in their fields are discovering and witness firsthand the advances they're making in medical technology and treatments.

Join the doctors each Tuesday at 8pm, as they answer the health questions of the Australian public and deliver the latest in medical advice in a relatable, entertaining, and factual way.

This week we discover why sleep is imperative for healing, starving off disease and brain function. Dr Renee looks at the growing problem of teen sleep deprivation and asks how is it affecting their health, behaviour and academic performance. We meet a sleep deprived teen and with the help of sleep experts put her on a six-week course to try and reset their body clock. Renee reveals how developments in technology are changing the quality of our sleep and finds out what can be done to improve it. Meanwhile, serial snorer Dr Shalin heads to the sleep clinic and finds out why we snore, if it's bad for our health, and most importantly, is there a cure? Dr Sandro asks how much sleep do we need? We find out if eight hours is really the magic number.

Discover why sleep is imperative for healing, starving off disease and brain function. Dr Shalin heads to the sleep clinic and finds out why we snore, if it's bad for our health, and most importantly, is there a cure?

Wednesday 31 May

Brand New Weekly Comedy on iview, ABC TV and ABC2

Sammy J's Democratic Party

When he was thirteen, Sammy J visited Canberra on a school excursion. There, in the Great Hall of Parliament, he had a vision of a weekly, bite-sized satirical comedy show in which he would star.

Twenty years later, that vision finally comes true. If you like your politics sharp, shiny, and with a healthy dose of craft activities, this is one party you don't want to miss.

Each episode will include a new Sammy J's Playground Politics sketch - the hit of the 2016 election campaign. There'll be lots of fun to be had turning opinions into facts, building a nuclear bomb out of paddle pop sticks, and having a picnic with Corey Bearnardi in the political wilderness.

But once the kids are in bed, it'll be time to get this party started ...

Sammy J's Democratic Party is the panacea we need to get us through another winter of Australian politics. From low level thugs enforcing federal laws in Constitutional Cops, to the excitement of the brand new game show Get Them to the Frontbench, there'll be something for everyone in this weekly smorgasbord. Unless that person is Malcolm Turnbull.

Along the way, Sammy J grapples with the problems faced by everyday Australians. How would he feel if a mosque was built on his street? Does he really want to know where his food comes from? And why won't Robert Menzies answer any of his questions?

So pour yourself a drink, invite your local MP around and get ready to party like it's 2017 - because democracy has never tasted sweeter.

Premieres on iview Wednesday May 31st
Also on ABC TV Wednesday May 31st at 10.00pm
ABC2 Thursday June 1st at 10.35pm

Short synopsis

A brand new weekly bite-sized sketch show in which Sammy J plays, acts, and sings his lungs out for the enjoyment of taxpayers across the nation.

Sunday 28 May

First on iView in the morning, then 7.40pm on ABC TV & ABC ME

Doctor Who

Travelling through time and space, the seventh episode will screen on ABC iView on Sunday May 28, immediately following the UK broadcast.

If you plan to sleep in on Sunday, or want to relive all the action, then tune into ABC or ABC ME that night at 7.40pm as the channels simulcast the seventh episode.

Doctor Who, series 10, sees Peter Capaldi embark on his thrilling final chapter as the Twelfth Doctor as well as the introduction of brand new companion Pearl Mackie as Bill Potts and the return of Matt Lucas as Nardole.

During this new series, fantastic adventures and terrifying monsters await the team of heroes as they journey through space and time in this latest instalment of the globally-renowned drama. Expect laughter, danger and exhilarating escapades in this final series under the helm of lead writer and executive producer Steven Moffat.

Series 10 also sees the return of the original Mondasian Cybermen, much-feared classic foe. The Mondasian Cybermen – the original version of the Doctor's deadly enemies – hail from the planet Mondas and have not been seen in Doctor Who for over fifty years.

Peter Capaldi first stepped into the TARDIS in 2013, and will leave the iconic role in the 2017 Christmas Special after three incredible series of the BBC's global hit sci-fi drama. Peter Capaldi's final series also marks writer and executive producer Steven Moffat's last so promises to be unmissable event television.

You Can't Ask That

We all get old, but how old is too old? In this episode, we ask Centenarians to tell us what it's really like to live to 100 or more.

Kicking off by asking 'Why aren't you dead yet?', 102-year-old Eileen Kramer says "I decided not to be". While Irene O'Shea says, "God hasn't called me yet, when God calls me, I'll go." 106-year-old, Dexter Krueger, tells us how he sometimes practices being in a coffin, "I lay out on the floor, eyes shut, and I say, 'well it's not too bad'. Heaps of other people do it so it can't be all that difficult." Dexter has been reported dead 4 times.

Responding to the public's curiosity about the longevity of sex-lives as we get older, 101-year-old Alf Jarvis reveals the last time he had sex, "Six months ago" he says. "It's broken down now, that's the only reason I ceased. I was alright one minute, and the next day it was like a damp cloth." David agrees, "I was sexually active up until about 4 years ago. One's performance gradually disappears." Although it's not all so romantic, sex hasn't played a role in Irene's life for some time, "My husband died in 1953, I was 37. I had too much to do to miss it. I had two children to bring up." she says.

Lindsay struggles to hold back tears when asked 'What's it like watching all your friends die?'. "I still love my wife. I see where she is cremated quite regularly. I shed a few tears. But I feel better for it afterwards." he says.

This is the final episode in the current run on ABC TV, but all 12 episodes including 3 iview-only exclusive episodes are available anytime on iview.
